THE RESOUE OF ANTHONY BURNS.

Mr. DAVIS (Cond. Un. K.y.) called up the resolution of inquiry into the part taken by Col. Higginson in the eases of the fugitive Anthony Burns, and read from the published history of the case, extracts, showing, as he thought, treason and murder on the part of said Higeinson.

On motion of Mr. TRUMBULL the resolution was tabled—Yeas, 29, Nays, 10,

THE METROPOLITAN RAILROAD.

THE METROPOLITAN RAILROAD.

The bill to incorporate the Metropolitan Railroad Company of the District of Columbia came up in order, the pending amendment being that of Mr. Sunner, providing that no person shall be evaluded from the mars on the road on account of color.

Mr. Johnson (Cond. Un., Md.) thought one-half of the time of the Senate had been taken up in the discussion of this question of the comparative rights of white and colored men. The white man had no greater privilege in these cars than the colored man. The smedy which the law furnished for the violation of the ights of colored men was as open to them as to the white man. There was a preference for white men and young mong one closes; and the same was the case was such that it would be very perilous to attempt to promote political and social equality between them. He supposed that hundreds of thousands of slaves had becaused from Slavery in the South during the present Rebellion. Were they fit to take part in the great bolitical questions of the day, or as social companious for ourselves, wives and daughters? He was certain, whatever might be the capacity of the free negro, the masses who are now coming into our midst are not it to exercise the elective franchise, mix socially with the Solitical questions. When a great topic of the day was under disonstion. How would we appeal to these men's By reason? No. By persuasion: Yes, Persuasion founded upon ignorance and appeal to these men's By reason? No. By persuasion: Yes, Persuasion founded upon ignorance and appeal to these men's By reason? What would the effect be if an important and one of power in this body, when a great topic of the day was under disonstion. How would we appeal to these men's By reason? No. By persuasion: Yes, Persuasion founded upon ignorance and appealing to ignorance of that description.

Mr. JORNEOS—That might be. Some of this class were intelligent. He was far from believing that because a man was black his intelligence was not as great as others. What he would say was, that, notwithstanding any extraordinary intellect he might possess, there till existed a latent prejudice which kept him from rising to his proper sphere. No one would contend for the intermarriage of whites with blacks. What father would have his daughter bound to a black man by marriage vows, or his son bound to a colored woman? Such equality would sin alike against the scase of the times and the manly feeling of the white race. He trusted that, upon reflection, the honorable Senator would withdraw his amendment, as there was not the slightest peccasity for it. He said that Slavers in Maryland, if not dead, has received the wounds of death; and those gentlemen favoring its conticuance would that that, in

THE CONVENTION WITH FULADOR.

Mr. COX (Dem. Obio), from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a bill to carry into effect the Convention between the United States and Ecuator for the nutual adjustment of claims.

It was passed, and provides for the appointment of a Commissioner fixing his compensation at $3,500, together with the incidental expenses.

The hist bill was from the Senate, enabling the people of Novada to form a Constitution and State Government, and providing for the semission of Nevada into the Union on an equal focting with the original States.

The bill was read and passed without debate.

The next Senate bill was taken up, enabling Colorado to form a Constitution and State Government preliminary to her admission into the Union on an equal focting with the original States.

Mr. PENDLETCH (Dem., Ohio) wanted the bill referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union for discussion.

Mr. Astlery objected, saving that a similar bill had

Mr. Ashuer objected, saying that a similar bill had heretofore passed the House, and this one had passed the Sennte.

the Senate.

Mr. Cox remarked that he had not had an opportunity to examine the bill, and would like to offer an amendment providing that the State be not admitted until Congress is satisfied that she has a population equal to that required for the election of a Member of the House, according to the Federal ratio under the last census. Mr. Ashley replied that the population of Colorado never proposed either to establish or probibit Slavery, but to leave the decision of that question to the people thomselves. The remark did not come with a good grace from that quarter, considering the antecedents of his colleague.

Mr. Mallony moved to strike out that part of the bill

Mr. MALLORY moved to strike out that part of the bill prohibiting Slavery, as as to leave Congress uncommitted on the subject. He subsequently asked leave to withdraw the amendment but the Spaniar (COLPAX) decided that this could not be done, as the previous question had been seconded on the passage of the bill. The House then voted on Mr. Mallory's amendment, which was rejected by Yeas 18, namely:
